The following is a presentation of the teaching and learning centre and its values. Indeed, the education that the students will acquire, really matters for us. We aim to train football players and also educate them.

School/High school « PP Agustinos »

Characteristics of the teaching centre :

It offers an educational proposal to the society. This one aims at the integral education (individual, social,...) of the student, from pre-primary school to the high school diploma. The collaboration of families and the responsibility of the teaching staff allow the achievement of this goal.

The organization of the centre has as a general framework, the Learning Project of the Centre (PEC : Proyecto Educativo del Centro), which is the ethos of the school. It lies on a fundamental pillar as a teaching centre :

- To achieve the integral education of the student through the harmonious development of all his physical, psychological and sociocultural potentialities

- To develop his personal skills by boosting his freedom and responsibility, his dialogue, creativity and scientific research
- To foster universal values such as the respect, freedom, peace or coexistence
- To educate progressively the students about the social, cultural and scientific reality on a dialectic relationship with the traditions of our society
- To globalize their views of the social reality or to try to use universal frameworks when focusing on problems and important social issues.
- To claim in practical ways that interculturalism represents a moral area of human encounter and brings moral demands of freedom, respect and complementarity.
- To create personal work habits as well as group work habits, so as to face new situations and make the students participate in the transformation of a more human society
- To encourage personal teaching in order to make the students the architects of their own education.

Facilities of the school/ high school

The school has classrooms, a refectory , a laboratory, a courtyard and sport facilities.

The school laboratory has an important learning value. Indeed, it allows to develop material handler skills of the students. All of this allows to give them this spirit of investigation and to maintain a certain practice of attitudes and values in individual or group work. Thanks to this learning area, students will be enabled to check the knowledge learned in class with tangible demonstrations that help the students relate their classes to the real world and give them an attractive approach.
